JUDGE

Case No. C. I.T. 10 of 1965

Ref :—Government of India, Ministry of Labour & Employment Order No. F.No. 51 (43)/65-LRIV dated 28-9-65.

In the Matter of an Industrial Dispute

BETWEEN

The Punjab National Bank Employees, Rajasthan, Ajmer

AND

The Punjab National Bank Limited, New Delhi

APPEARANCES

For the Employees—Shri Satya Prakash

For the Bank—Shri J.C. Jetley.

Date of Award—12th July, 1966

AWARD

This is a reference between the Punjab National Bank Limited, New Delhi and the Association of the Punjab National Bank Employees, Rajasthan, Ajmer, under Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The dispute is as under :—

“Whether having regard to the directions contained in the Award dated 7th June, 1962 of the National Industrial Tribunal (Bank Disputes), Bombay published with the Notification of the Government of India in the Ministry of Labour and Employment as No. S.O. 2028, dated 13th June, 1962, Shri Chandradeo Khattar an employee of the Sangaria branch of the Punjab National Bank Ltd., is entitled to any special allowance during the period from the 28th January, 1962 to the 16th October, 1964 on such holidays which were prefixed or suffixed to the leave availed of by the permanent Supervisor against whose post Sri Khattar officiated in the leave arrangement? If so, to what relief is he entitled?”

The facts of the case are simple. Shri C.D. Khattar, clerk-cum-godown-keeper-cum-typist officiated for the leave vacancy on several occasions for the supervisor Shri D.S. Sultani between 28th January, 1962 to 16th October, 1964 and he was paid special allowance only for the leave period of the supervisor. He has claimed that he should also have been paid special allowance for the holidays prefixed and suffixed by the supervisor during his leave, for he had held the charge of the office of the supervisor for those days as well and he was entitled to the special allowance for those days. The management of the Bank in their written statement pleaded that Shri Khattar was not entitled to any allowance for the holidays prefixed or suffixed during the leave of the supervisor and that paragraph 5.289 of the Desai Award did not contemplate payment of any such special allowance and that no duty was performed by Shri Khattar on holidays. It was also pleaded by the management that the dispute was not an industrial dispute in as much as it has not been espoused in a proper manner by a substantial number of employees of the bank.

In the counter claim the General Secretary of the union has mentioned that the dispute had been espoused by the workmen employed by the Punjab National Bank, Sangaria and in addition to that it has also been espoused by the Association of the Punjab National Bank Employees, Rajasthan, Ajmer, a registered union.

The preliminary objection of the management of the bank has no substance as the dispute has been espoused by the union as mentioned in the counter claim.

Paragraph 5.289 of the Desai Award is as follows :—

“A person is entitled to a special allowance so long as he is in charge of such work or the performance of such duties which attract such allowance. Whether a person can be asked to cease to do such work or cease to discharge such duties in order that he may not have such allowance depends upon the terms of his employment. A person who is employed permanently as a head clerk or as a stenographer cannot be deprived of such allowance at the sweet will and pleasure of a bank by asking him to work as an ordinary clerk or asking him not to work as a stenographer. A person asked to work temporarily in a post carrying a special allowance would be entitled to such special allowance for such period during which he occupies that post."

Both the management of the bank and the union have now agreed to settle the dispute by paying special allowance to Shri Khattar for holidays so prefixed or suffixed. A list of the holidays prefixed and suffixed prepared by Shri Khattar has been placed on the record. The management of the bank has raised two serious objections to the holidays mentioned in that list. Firstly the holidays on which Shri Khattar may have officiated for Shri B. R. Garg, Officer Incharge cannot be considered to fall within the scope of this reference. On behalf of the union it has been explained that Shri Khattar officiated for the supervisor whenever the supervisor officiated for officer incharge who went out on leave. It may be noted that the facts in this behalf are not very clear and evidence in this connection is also very scanty. It appears reasonable to leave to the bank for verification from the official records. In case the management of the bank is satisfied from its record that Shri Khattar officiated for the supervisor when the latter officiated in turn for the officer incharge, it would be open to the bank to consider in the light of the Desai Award even though this matter may not technically fall within the reference and to pay special allowance for those days. As regards the holidays on which Shri Khattar officiated for the supervisor who went on leave the claim for special allowance is conceded. The material on record for verification of the days on which Shri Khattar so officiated is meagre and both the parties agree that the determination of the number of days on which Shri Khattar so officiated may be left to the management of the bank for verification from its official records and the bank shall pay special allowance to Shri Khattar for the number of holidays on which he officiated for the supervisor between the relevant period.

The dispute is on the whole settled by consent of both the parties and a consent award as mentioned above is passed. Let a copy of the award be sent to the Central Government for publication.
